

APRIL 7,
2014

Life & Style

ONLY
$2.99

Bachelor's Biggest Shock Ever

NIKKI TO JUAN PABLO

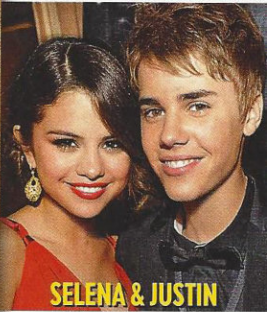

I'M HAVING A BABY!

A FAKE RELATIONSHIP SUDDENLY TURNS ALL TOO REAL

Juan Pablo still hasn't said 'I love you,' leaving Nikki terrified she'll be pregnant and alone

KHLOÉ & KIM WHO'S HOTTER
NOW?!

SELENA & JUSTIN

Wedding Plans!

MILEY VS. DEMI

It's War

Scary Skinny!

Stressed-
Out Tori
30 LBS.
UNDERWEIGHT

$2.99

Great Expectations

"Nikki's goal is to have a baby and start a family — with Juan Pablo," shares a friend. "Everyone knows how much she wants to be a mom."

Bachelor Bombshell

A BABY FOR NIKKI

The most dramatic season ever has even more shocks in store as Juan Pablo faces fatherhood for the second time

More than a year into her relationship with Ryan McDill, Nikki Ferrell knew she was ready for the next step. In her mind, all the weekends at her parents' lake house and dinners at their fave spot, Margarita's, were leading toward two things: a wedding and a baby. But fellow Missouri native Ryan didn't agree — and the duo split in July 2013. "Nikki is ready to get married and have a family," Ryan tells Life & Style. "I just wasn't really ready."

Months later, Nikki has found the guy to make her dreams come true. Or so she thinks. Juan Pablo Galavis, already dad to 5-year-old Camila, has told the pediatric nurse he's on board with her plan — which means another Bachelor baby could be on the way. "They're totally on the same page," couples counselor Elizabeth Carroll, who met with the duo on March 18, tells Life & Style. "Both of them expressed that they want more children, a big family."

ON A MOMMY MISSION

The problem: In Juan Pablo's case, insiders say, it's a lie. Nikki's being strung along by a guy who has no intention of having a baby with her — despite the image he's tried to portray publicly. When The

She's Always Dreamed of Being a Mom

She Bonded With Camila

Marriage Boot Camp star Elizabeth Carroll applauds Nikki for the "co-parenting partnership" she has with Juan Pablo and his ex.

She Works With Children

Nikki's dedicated her life to helping children as a pediatric nurse. She calls it her "dream job."

She Wanted Kids With Her Ex

Ryan McDill says he and Nikki broke up because he wasn't ready to be a dad yet.

He Seems Like the Perfect Family Man

Juan Pablo hooked Nikki with his parenting skills. "He's such a good dad," raves an insider. "He is very involved in his daughter's life."

POOR NIKKI! JUAN PABLO'S JUST NOT THAT INTO HER

He's Using Her for Fame

When cameras are watching (like with the stars of Marriage Boot Camp, below), Juan Pablo is all smiles. But in private moments, his lack of interest shows. "The reason he was so interested in being the Bachelor was to make money and become more famous," shares an insider.

He Flirts Behind Her Back

Nikki was out of sight, out of mind for Juan Pablo during the four months after Bachelor filming ended. He even exchanged phone numbers with a bevy of beauties, including singer Mayra Veronica.

He Likes Being Long-Distance

Rather than nest with Nikki, Juan Pablo's still living with his parents in Miami while she continues to work at a hospital in Missouri.

He Still Hasn't Said "I Love You"

Juan Pablo's inability to pledge his devotion stings — especially since Nikki and her ex said "I love you" after just two months!

Bachelor premiered in January, Juan Pablo, 32, stole hearts as a devoted single dad. "My daughter is my priority," he shared, "so if you have plans with me and then my daughter calls, then I'm going to go with my daughter."

Nikki, 27, fell for his story, believing every word. "She loves that Juan Pablo is a great father," notes a friend. "That's why she sees a future with him. Nikki wants a baby with Juan Pablo 100 percent."

And she wants one now: Posing with a friend's child in January, the beautiful blonde admitted having baby fever and those close to her say there's no doubt she's going to have a baby. But the sad truth is that history is about to repeat itself for poor Nikki. Despite feeding her lines about a kid-filled future — he also told runner-up Clare Crawley, "We're going to have a baby in like a year and two months, I just know it," before dumping her — Juan Pablo has no interest in raising a child with his final-rose recipient. "Nikki is expecting their relationship to progress like any healthy relationship would," says the pal. "But if Nikki got pregnant, Juan Pablo wouldn't exactly be over the moon."

ULTERIOR MOTIVES

Family comes first for Nikki, whose parents have been married for 28 years. But for Juan Pablo, fame comes first. "Forget love," says a friend of the Venezuela-raised hunk. "He wants to be rich and famous."

Staying with Nikki means prolonging the spot-

Nikki's Ex: I'm Ready to Start a Family With You

Nikki signed up for The Bachelor three months after noncommittal ex Ryan McDill broke her heart. But now he wants her back — and, unlike Juan Pablo, he's ready to put a ring on it. "I could see the two of us working out long-term," he tells Life & Style. "I could see having a family with her. Basically, she is the one who got away." Even before watching his ex fall for another man on TV, Ryan, 27, realized he'd made a mistake. "After we broke up there were times where I would say, 'I don't know if that was the right decision,'" the owner/manager of Kansas City's All Star Auto Parts recalls. "But really I didn't have a whole lot of time [before she went on the show]. I didn't watch every single episode just because it was too hard. If she's truly happy, then I'm happy for her."

"Nikki's hoping for that fairy-tale ending — but it's not going to come."

—an insider

light. Flashbulbs went wild when the twosome showed up at an art exhibition presented by Dom Pérignon on March 11 and at Moët & Chandon's Tiny Tennis tournament at The Viceroy in Miami on March 19. While there's interest in them as a couple, Juan Pablo — whose bad-boy behavior has caused a backlash — alone wouldn't sell. "Juan Pablo just wants his arm candy," blasts Nikki's ex Ryan.

Nikki's not completely innocent, though. "She wants to be famous just as much as Juan Pablo does," admits the first friend. "There's a reason he picked her."

REALITY CHECK

But this once-fake relationship is getting real very fast for Nikki. Ignoring tales of the other women Juan Pablo's wooed while she was away, she's allowed herself to get invested in the relationship. And the longer she stays with Juan Pablo, the more she has babies on the brain.

Yet having Juan Pablo's kid doesn't mean he'll stick around — after all, he never married Camila's mother, Carla Rodriguez. "I'm sure Nikki thinks if she were to get pregnant by him it would bring him closer, which absolutely won't happen," cautions marriage counselor and dating coach Carolyn Bushong. "He seems very much commitment-phobic."

And Nikki's not going to change him. While counseling Juan Pablo and Nikki, Marriage Boot Camp's Elizabeth Carroll and her husband, Jim, saw firsthand how the Latin lothario tries to set the rules in their relationship. "He's so opinionated in everything," Jim tells Life & Style. "Nikki could become a doormat." Adds Elizabeth, "She'll never get into a power struggle with Juan Pablo."

Sadly, her inability to speak up and his need to control everything could leave Nikki in a terrible situation. "She could wind up pregnant and alone," reveals the friend. "That would be Nikki's worst nightmare."

WHAT'S NEXT?

For the sake of Nikki's sanity, Juan Pablo needs to decide once and for all if he sees a real future with her. If not, enough is enough — he should stop stringing Nikki and her baby dreams along. After all, that's what he asked of the Bachelor contestants. "It's dumb to waste their time and my time," he told Life & Style when asked about women being there for the wrong intentions. "People have to be very mature, very honest and very realistic." 